

Backup & Restore

In order to guarantee that your account data and your configuration is never lost, Smartenit API provides backup and restore endpoints that can be used to store one or several resources and recover them anytime in any client.

Backups are stored securely in the cloud, and they can be simply restored to your account using the /restore endpoint. To get started with this topic, please check the backup & restore examples.